CONFERRING OF DEGREES
School of Pharmacy | Loma Linda, California

Message from the President

Congratulations to the Class of 2020.

One of the greatest joys experienced by our campus community is the opportunity to celebrate your academic excellence and personal achievements. This 114th commencement season marks the culmination of your study and professional preparation, which has equipped you to meet the next great adventures of your lives. You and those who have supported you are to be commended.

Now and for all time, you occupy a place among the alumni of this historic institution. I urge you always to model in your personal and professional life the excellence and vision, the courage and resilience, the passion and compassion that continue to shape and enhance our global reputation and legacy.

As you move beyond this weekend to the world of work or the pursuit of advanced degrees, I know that your commitment to our mission and values will be evident as your knowledge and skills are used to “continue the teaching and healing ministry of Jesus Christ—to make man whole.”

Now go with confidence wherever your dreams may lead you—questioning, learning, and challenging as you change our world for the better. I wish for you a satisfying and successful journey as you serve in the name and spirit of our gracious God.

Message from the Dean

Class of 2020, we are so very proud of you! None of us ever imagined when we started this academic year that we'd be facing the biggest pandemic in over 100 years. Our lives have been disrupted in ways we'd never imagined. While I would much prefer to be with you face-to-face together with your families and friends, that's not possible, so I want to share with you at least a few thoughts and give a message to your families. For those of you who are married, I want to speak a word to your spouse – You've watched your husband or wife struggle through one of the greatest adventures of their life. Completing a doctoral degree is no small task. For those of you who have kids, let me say this – one of my favorite things to do during graduation is to look the children of our graduates in the eye and tell them how proud of their mom or dad that I am and that they should be! So kids, if you are listening, I'm so proud of your mom or dad! They've shown you that no matter what you set your mind to, you can accomplish it! And to the parents, friends and dozens of others out there who are part of the support network of these graduates, you have ALL sacrificed tremendously to see your graduate reach this milestone in their life. You should be very proud. And graduates, I want to leave you with some important advice. Don't ever forget those who went before you and paved a way for you. No one ever achieves a major accomplishment in life alone – someone – or lots of someones – lifted you up, whether you realize it or not. Beyond your family, there were alumni of this school of pharmacy who have generously given back to scholarships, provided funding for you to have meals, paid for white coats, donated equipment and supplies, and given generously so that the facilities and faculty are available. That's what generous people do. They give back. And each of you have benefited from this generosity. Let me encourage you to do the same. Plant a tree for others to sit under. Generosity is a practice that will come back to bless you many times. Class of 2020, as you now embark upon your bright career, know that there are a group of faculty and administrators, your friends and colleges here on this beautiful Hill who will look fondly on your future....and we will always be here for you and cheering you on. We hope you'll return home to visit often.

Now may "The LORD bless you and keep you;
25 The LORD make His face shine upon you, And be gracious to you;
26 The LORD [a]lift up His countenance upon you,
And give you peace."

University History Highlights

Loma Linda University is part of the Seventh-day Adventist system of higher education that adheres to and promotes its vision—“Transforming lives through education, health care, and research”—and its motto—“To make man whole.”

Loma Linda University traces its beginnings back to 1905, when—through a series of divine providences—the University, starting as a nurses’ training school, was founded at Loma Linda, California, by the Seventh-day Adventist Church. The School of Nursing began in 1905. In 1909, the College of Medical Evangelists received its charter as a medical school with the express purpose of preparing physicians who could meet the needs of the whole person. Both schools emphasized the need for healthful living as a part of medical care—a revolutionary concept in 1905.

The University has steadily expanded its programs to meet the demands of a global environment. The original schools—Nursing and Medicine—have been joined by the Schools of Allied Health Professions, Behavioral Health, Dentistry, Pharmacy, Public Health, and Religion; and the Faculty of Graduate Studies. All the school programs are accredited by their respective accrediting bodies.

- 1905 Loma Linda Sanitarium and Nurses’ Training School (renamed School of Nursing in 1924)
- 1909 Institution named College of Medical Evangelists (CME), which included School of Medicine
- 1937 School of Medical Technology
- 1941 School of Physical Therapy
- 1948 School of Tropical and Preventive Medicine (reorganized as School of Public Health in 1967)
- 1953 School of Dentistry
- 1954 Graduate School (restructured as Faculty of Graduate Studies in 2005)
- 1961 College of Medical Evangelists renamed Loma Linda University
- 1962 Voted to consolidate the Schools of Medicine and Nursing on the Loma Linda campus
- 1966 Schools/Programs consolidated as the School of Health Related Professions, now known as School of Allied Health Professions
- 1967 Loma Linda University campus merged with La Sierra College
- 1968 Loma Linda University Hospital dedicated; renamed Loma Linda University Medical Center in 1970
- 1990 Loma Linda and La Sierra campuses became two separate universities
- 1997 Loma Linda University and Medical Center corporately linked together through Loma Linda University Adventist Health Sciences Center—LLUAHSC
- 2002 School of Pharmacy
- 2003 School of Science and Technology (restructured as School of Behavioral Health in 2012)
- 2005 LLU centennial celebration
- 2007 School of Religion
- 2015 Corporation name changed from Loma Linda University Adventist Health Sciences Center (LLUAHSC) to Loma Linda University Health (LLUH)

Today the original 1905 property is part of an expanding health sciences campus operated under the jurisdiction of Loma Linda University Health—which includes six Loma Linda University-named medical facilities: Medical Center, Children’s Hospital, Medical Center-East Campus, Surgical Hospital, Behavioral Medicine Center, and Medical Center-Murrieta; ten LLUH institutes; three LLUH-related research centers; and various school-related research centers.

After more than a century of service, the University remains committed to the vision of its founders and is sustained by its close association with the Seventh-day Adventist Church. The University is recognized as a leader in the field of health sciences education, research, and service—locally and internationally.

Through divine providence and guidance, Loma Linda University continues to fulfill its mission: To prepare health professionals to continue the teaching and healing ministry of the Master Teacher and Great Physician, Jesus Christ.

THE GOOD SAMARITAN

The Good Samaritan, the four-figure sculpture located on the mall of Loma Linda University, is a representation of the parable told by Jesus in Luke 10:30–37. It was sculpted by Alan Collins and dedicated and unveiled at Loma Linda University on May 31, 1981.

The sculpture speaks eloquently of the compassionate practice of the healing arts and of our mission—“to continue the teaching and healing ministry of Jesus Christ”—and of the motto of this health sciences University—“To make man whole.”

The Good Samaritan has been incorporated into the diploma as a screened background since 2006.
